Microblading/Eyebrow Tattoo Aftercare Instructions

FOR THE FIRST 2 HOURS POST PROCEDURE

Blot & press firmly on the brows with a clean paper towel. (Be gentle, do not wipe or drag the paper towel) This will push out and absorb any lingering lymph fluid and is crucial for good healing & retention.

24 HOURS

Use sterile water and a small amount of a mild soap or cleanser and gently wash your brows. Make sure all ointment is washed off & allow brows to air dry for 1 hour, then apply Grape Seed Oil.

DAY 2

Apply thin coat of Grape Seed Oil twice a day for 7 days.
DO NOT USE TOO MUCH, SKIN MUST BE ABLE TO BREATHE.

DAY 3

Wash gently with a diluted, mild cleanser, like Dove or Baby soap, let air dry, and continue to apply Grape Seed Oil twice daily.

DAY 10

Wash gently again with a diluted, mild cleanser like Dove or Baby soap, let air dry.

SEND ME A CLEAR PHOTO OF YOUR BROWS.

I will let you know whether or not to continue with the Grape Seed oil if needed.

No harsh cleansers, creams, makeup, or other products on treated area for 10 days.

No heavy sweating, saunas, pool or sun for 10 days. No Botox, chemical peels, or Microderm for 4 weeks.

The healing process of a cosmetic tattoo is different than a body art tattoo. Body art goes deeper into the skin using tattoo ink. A cosmetic tattoo is more superficial in implant & uses cosmetic pigment. During the healing process your immune system will push the pigment out through your lymphatic system. What remains will be pushed down into the dermis. During this time your pigment may “disappear.” The skin will be healing. This involves itchy, flaky skin. As it finishes the remodeling period, the pigment will again be visible. This happens with all cosmetic tattoo procedures from brows to lips & eye liner. Follow the aftercare protocol for the best retention & no infection.
